Road Crossings:

Courses Green, Blue and Brown cross a minor road(s).

Terrain: Saxons are pleased to hold the first event in Tudeley Woods RSPB Nature Reserve. The area is principally wooded, much of it runnable, with many features, and it appears to be rarely visited. The central area of Tudeley has a good path network, used by the shorter courses, but further west and east there are neither public footpaths nor obvious access points. In places the terrain is deeply incised by streams, and the steep banks will test your agility. The longer courses will continue into Pembury Walks which is flatter, with sections of coniferous woods, open heathland and coppiced hazel.
